

Take a look at the College Selector. Our tool will assist you to discover and discuss the complex decision to choose a school that fits your individual and personal needs ... for about the price of a good coffee.

The College Selector is more than a list. It's an interactive personal database helping you to organise and prioritise your own selections conveniently on your mobile device.

Capture all your thoughts in one place and then graphically show results for your personal comparisons. Topics include groupings for academic life, real life and financial life helping you to research and review up to 50 variables.

Review your selected schools to see their balance of your individual academic and lifestyle needs. Show the results using your own scores together with cost projections. You will be surprised to see illustrations that help you to determine what fits your personal needs and family's objectives best.

In four simple steps, College Selector records your information for personal use on either Apple or Android mobile devices. College Selector will help save you time and logically order your thoughts for 50 criteria applied to 15 potential schools. Start with a potential school list, input scores for individual criteria, include estimates of your financial plans and review charts with your personalised results. Keep refining your model when you have new ideas and updated information; the results will continuously illustrate your latest insights.

Organising and graphically highlighting your thinking are important steps to help make complicated decisions.
